WHATEVER the quest that sets you traveling — be it pleasure, recreation, friendly retreat from harsh winter, or health-restoring climate — you will find the Salt River Valley of Arizona an exceptionally pleasant stopping place.

Here, "where summer winters," you will find a colorful land of rare beauty, whose sunshine will summon you out of doors each day to some new enjoyment of the quiet peace of green fields, of the mysteries of desert and mountain. Play golf throughout the winter on courses perpetually green, ride horseback over scenic trails, or bring your car and motor over four hundred miles of paved highways. Discover for yourself the trail the Apaches rode in days gone by, past the cliff dwellings of a vanished race, skirting a chain of mountain lakes in a setting that rivals Switzerland, with the thrill of your first view of the great Roosevelt dam to cap the climax.

Best of all, you can be sure of finding here, either in luxuriously appointed resort hotel, comfortable apartment or rose-bordered bungalow, accommodations of the type you naturally prefer.

Airplane view of Phoenix Country Club, February, 1925

State Capitol, Phoenix

To the end that you may come to enjoy the fullness of life in the Salt River Valley, to taste its joys and appraise its opportunities, this invitation is cordially extended by the undersigned business firms:

Electricity as the city man knows it

Now available anywhere—without storage batteries

There is one kind of private electric power and light plant which much experience has shown to be uniquely adapted for use in country or summer homes, country clubs, rural churches, schools and community buildings, and many similar locations.

This is the no-storage-battery, 110-volt Kohler Automatic. The absence of storage batteries; the 110-volt current, using standard lamps and appliances; the press-the-button, automatic operation; and an exceptionally high standard of mechanical excellence, reflected in great reliability—are Kohler Automatic features which result in a perfection of service beyond the conception of anyone familiar only with the conventional type of lighting plant.

There are Kohler units ranging in capacity from 800 to 2000 watts, and in price from $360 to $795. Complete information, and the opinion of users, are contained in the Kohler Automatic booklet, "The Principle and the Proof," which we will gladly send you.

"And Here is Your Bathroom"

WHEN the hostess says simply, "And here is your bathroom," she is in fact saying, "The freedom of the house is yours. You need not shape your habits to ours, nor be fearful of incommoding us."

An additional bathroom often spells the difference between easy, gracious hospitality and embarrassed, apologetic hospitality. And when no guests are present it adds immeasurably to the comfort and convenience of every member of the family.

* *

Let the capable plumbing dealer who sells Kohler Ware in your neighborhood show you how a model bathroom can be installed in a space as small as five feet by six, no larger than a good-sized closet. And let him demonstrate in figures the reasonableness of the investment that will bring you the enduring satisfaction to be found in the unsurpassed quality and beauty of design of Kohler Enameled Plumbing Ware.

* *

May we send you our booklet of Kohler Ware for bathrooms, kitchens, and laundries?

KOHLER

It is your guaranty of genuineness and of these distinctive Kohler qualities—(1) the beautiful snowy whiteness of the durable enamel (2) the uniformity of that whiteness in every fixture.

PHILLIPS ACADEMY

ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS

FOUNDED at Andover, Mass., 1778, by the gifts of Hon. Samuel Phillips and his uncle, Hon. John Phillips. Others have added to the original foundations by endowments of several kinds, and various scholarships have been established. The total endowment is $5,000,000.

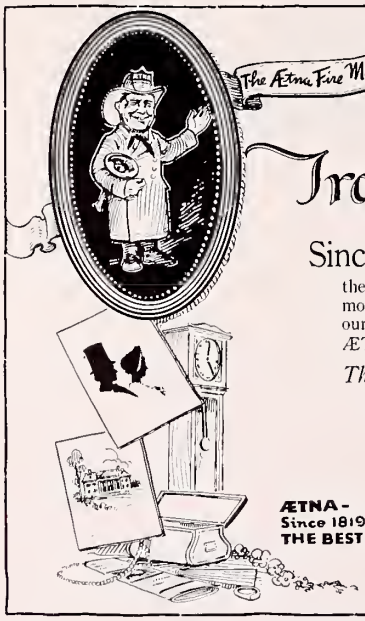

Phillips Academy has established very high repute for its broad scholarship, for its elevated ideals, and especially for the practical success which has been attained by its students.

In all the leading professions and every useful avenue of endeavor, its alumni are found among leaders. In all the great colleges, and particularly Yale and Harvard, the graduates of this Academy have for years been distinguished for their thoroughness of preparation and success in their college work. The Academy has also done a useful work in the education of boys who have not gone to college. Especially is it distinguished for its American, democratic spirit, the sons of the wealthiest men in the country mingling with boys who are working their way through school.

The courses of the Academy have thoroughly readjusted and adapted themselves to the highest collegiate requirements. The ability of its faculty, the excellence of its equipment, its library and laboratory facilities, the prestige of honorable history and other advantages and achievements have placed Phillips Academy in the front rank of American schools.

IN this materialistic age it is extremely difficult to express, without being ridiculed, the sentiments of a Senior class as it takes its leave of the institution which has been the scene of so many of its trials and good times. In the heart of the coldest, however, there cannot but be a little pang of sorrow at the parting; and for so many more, there is a feeling of sincere regret that their Andover days are fast drawing to a close. There is also the anticipation of the days ahead, — the eagerness to drink deeper of the cup of life, and the desire for profounder things. Whether we are prepared for the future or not, is of little importance to us, who are filled with the uneasiness of the times; yet there is not one of our number who does not wish that he had more thoroughly taken advantage of the numerous opportunities which have been offered to us here. Thus we take our leave.

Anticipating the arrival of the Pot Pourri, the Board wishes to thank all those who have been of assistance in preparing the book for the press, and all those who are supporting it. We started the year with the intention of outdoing our predecessors; we end with the faint hope that this book has not fallen far below the standards set by them.

CLASS HISTORY

Junior Year

WHEN, in the fall of 1921, we made our début as undergraduates here, it can be fairly said that the apprehension in our hearts was not unmingled with a certain degree of hope and anticipation. Things were new and strange. The "old men," after the conventional period of being supercilious and disdainful towards us, were less and less formidable. They were a part of this novel existence, and were accepted as such. The term flowed on swiftly, with ratings interplaced often enough to keep us in a state of perpetual terror. We met them with a variety of successes, relative to our talent and application.

In the annual Andover-Exeter football game, we were disappointed. Not that our team was not good, and determined, but that we should apparently bring such foul luck. William Healey, our hope, was, unfortunately, ineligible. In the result of the game, Exeter 34, Andover 3, is a fair account of the struggle. But for this final defeat, the season was a fine one.

In the winter term, we started well by winning the B. A. A. relay race against Exeter by a safe margin. 1925 had no men on this team, and no men of our class were on the victorious, 3 to 0, hockey team. Exeter won both swimming and basketball. To all appearances we were not represented, but many of our men had tried for the various teams and thus lent their support. "Bill" Healey, of 1925, was our sole representative on the wrestling team, where he upheld his class in more than a passing fair manner.

In the spring, we celebrated victories in baseball and tennis; but we had to console ourselves over the track defeat.

In all the various branches of school life we were as well represented as could be expected of a Junior class. But one is always more or less biased in one's opinion of the Class. Still, it can honestly be said that 1925 did all in its too limited power to contribute to a successful year. The men all tried for something, and, whether successful or not, offered their best to enliven competition and produce the best results.

As the year had worn on, we became less and less dazed until we seemed to have a very fair conception of life here and its pregnant possibilities. We looked forward to our ensuing years here. Those who did well had an earnest desire to continue, and those less fortunate had an equal determination to be more successful. Above all, we began to have an inkling of what Andover could mean, taken as offered, in the way of the finest of American preparatory schools.

R. K. Brockway

Lower Middle Year

UPON returning to Andover for the current school year of 1922, we, the now great Lower Middle class, felt that we were indeed "old men;" in fact we felt so old that even the worst of rainy days found us promenading the campus without our hats, defying the elements, merely to impress the fact that we had attained such heights. Our "prep" days were over and we intended to show the new men just in what way they were expected to act.

We looked forward this year to a speedy revenge of our last year's defeat by Exeter in football; however, our ill luck still hovered around in a most discouraging manner. The football season was a hard one, for we played only college Freshmen teams, and Exeter. Three of the preliminary games resulted in ties; and we lost to Exeter by the score of 12-3, thus making our second defeat since we had been in school. The Class of 1925 contributed Healey and Prior to the team, and it is needless to say that we were proud of them. Tseng, of our class, was on the victorious soccer team of that fall.

Our winter term of this year was an extremely hard one, for not only did we have numerous and heavy snowstorms, but also had more than enough work to keep us busy. We defeated Exeter in basketball, 27-23, in a clean, hard-fought game, and the two members of our class on the team were Billhardt and Brockelman, both excellent players. The Crimson swimmers defeated the Blue this year by a 32-21 margin. Wrestling was quite successful; we defeated Worcester, and 1925 was represented by Capra. In hockey, with Rogers of our class playing, we were defeated 6-0 by Exeter. We lost the B. A. A. Relay to Exeter. Paxton ran for 1925.

The spring term of our Lower Middle year was an extremely successful one. We defeated our rivals from New Hampshire in every spring sport, and succeeded in going through the whole track season with a clean record. In baseball we saw a wonder team, coached by Mr. Daly and captained by George Mumby, defeat Exeter by a 10-5 score. The preliminary season was good, with nine victories and only two defeats. The track team was the pride of the year; it outdid itself in its brilliancy in winning meets, and defeated Exeter 68-58 in a very exciting contest. Paxton, Borah, Healey and Tseng, all of our 1925 class, distinguished themselves in this branch of sport. Tennis we easily won 7-2.

During our Lower Middle year the campus changed somewhat, in that a new dormitory was put in use, and Pearson Hall had been moved. The Memorial Tower was now a familiar landmark, and the baseball cage and new main building were nearly completed.

We were well represented in lines outside of athletics, having several men on the publications, musical clubs, dramatics, and so forth.

Indeed the year 1922-23 was one of the happiest and most successful years of our Andover life; it was one that we will never forget, but long remember as just one good time after another with quite a bit of work thrown in.

J. K. Beeson

Upper Middle Year

VERY proudly did we march up the hill in the fall of our Upper Middle year; for were we not now next to the lords of the school, and in one short year would we not inherit the splendid privileges of the Seniors? Having demonstrated our absolute superiority to our own satisfaction by the Prep Parade, and by catching divers unwary preps and making them perform various menial duties, we turned our attention to football.

After a good preliminary season, we journeyed to Exeter to watch the two teams gore each other to a 7-7 standstill. We consoled ourselves with a moral victory, and the fact that Healey, Prior, Sandberg, Billhardt, and Foster represented us in the game. The Soccer Team, to which we gave English, Cheney, and Poor, was beaten by Worcester, 1-0.

Back to the utter darkness of Winter term, where we were presently engrossed in athletics, Dramatic Club, Musical Clubs, postponements of the Senior Prom, and slush. This season started well with the defeat of the Exeter Relay Team at the B. A. A. games, where our contribution was W. Paxton. Later came the defeat of the Exeter Hockey Team by the fighting Blue organization, our representative being P. Curtis. The Basketball Team with an unusual pre-season record of one defeat, finished it off in a blaze of glory by defeating our Red rivals 27-26, in one of the most thrilling games ever played between the two schools. Billhardt and Brockelman were the 1925 men on this team. Our swimmers after a fine season finished up with a 37-25 defeat from Exeter with Burns, Thrall, and Foxall from our class. The Wrestling Team finished with a tie with Worcester 11 to 11. C. Stewart was our only man.

After the ever unsatisfactory Easter vacation, we came back to wander for a time in a sea of mud until Spring finally declared her intentions, and put the various playgrounds into condition for work. The Baseball Team with Dudley, and Prior, from '25, went through with a record-breaking season, crowned appropriately with a 9-0 win over our New Hampshire rivals. The track men had an equally good record and won for the second successive time the prized Exeter meet, 71-55. Borah, Paxton, Sheldon, and Healey were the class representatives. The Tennis Team lost to Exeter by the close score of 5-4 in a series of fine matches. Another attraction was offered in the Senior Prom which came early in the term. Finally came graduation which we watched with hungry eyes; while some of us took no little pride in watching our President, Healey, lead the Seniors through the intricate performance of planting vines, and finally escorting them to the Chapel for the closing ceremony. That night came the Junior Prom at which we finally began to feel the importance of our coming dignity settling upon us. The year was appropriately ushered out with a black cloud of examinations obscuring all.

F. P. Foster

Senior Year

HERE we are at last. Our ambitions are partly realized; for now we are treading that stratum of rarified atmosphere which we gazed at with such longing eyes in our Junior days. Yet strange, we do not feel so lofty, so supreme. For our rosy-tinted dreams are interrupted by the grim force of reality. This is but another quarter of our school career, — new and far heavier responsibilities are to be shouldered, more games are to be won, and harder studies are be mastered, — but with the name of Senior on our brow, our confidence returns, and we joyously step into the midst of these fresh tasks, with a determination to conquer.

The new football field made us vow that we would christen it with an Exeter victory, but Fate ruled otherwise. Our fast, light team, after showing a remarkable fighting spirit, bowed to a 10 to 0 defeat. The Class of 1925 had a fine showing in the lineup: Captain Healey, Manager P. Curtis, Billhardt, Borah, Burns, Decker, Dorman, Foster, Pratt, Prior, and Ward. The Soccer Team, after a creditable preliminary season, defeated Worcester 4 to 0, the Senior Class being represented by Captain English, Manager W. E. Curtis, Ullman, Sun, Wylie, Cheney, Thomas.

The first team to meet Exeter in the winter was the Relay Team. In an exciting race we won by a scant margin. 1925 furnished Captain Borah and Paxton. Exeter won a very hotly contested basketball game, which ended 26-23. The entire team was composed of Seniors: Captain Billhardt, Manager Drummond, Morgan, Eeles, Brockelman, Tyler, Burns, and Southgate. The Exeter Swimming Meet was very close; they won 33 to 29. Our class was represented by Manager Lindsay, Foxall, Armstrong, and Decker. After the season had closed, Bryant and Nyce went down to the National Interscholastic Swimming Meet at Columbia, took three first places between them, and won the meet for Andover. As there was no ice, the hockey game with Exeter was postponed. The following Seniors were awarded their letters for excellence in preliminary games: Manager R. B. Bryant, Pratt, Curtis, Rogers, Collens, and Tweedy. Worcester was defeated at wrestling, 1925 doing its share with Manager Hyde, Bushnell, and Wylie.

The Senior Prom proved to be a huge success, and a bright spot in the long Winter term. Chickering, Beeson, and Lee, all Seniors, conducted the Phillipian in an admirable manner. The Pot Pourri, Philo, the Dramatic Club, and the Musical Clubs, and the Open Door, drew heavily from our class. The death of the Mirror led to the birth of the Vagabond, a publication containing the more serious efforts of the undergraduates.

As this book goes to press we are just entering the Spring term. With only mediocre material in both track and baseball to start with, we have every intention to develop a winning team in each. Tennis looks much more promising.

In the meantime we steadily approach the hour of our transformation from undergraduates to alumni. Our feelings of regret and pangs of remorse are softened by our eagerness to taste the sweets of graduation, and maybe, diplomas.

ATKINSON CURTIS MULLIGAN

MUSICAL CLUB OFFICERS

Musical Clubs

EARLY in September a call was given out for candidates for the Musical Clubs. An unusually large number answered this, and the enthusiasm, energy, and diligence of the members, together with the untiring efforts of Dr. Pfatteicher and Mr. Handley, have served to produce one of the best musical organizations that Andover has had in years.

The concert held at Rogers Hall on December 7th was the first of the year, and it fully proved the worth of the clubs. The Glee Club, Mandolin Club, Orchestra, and Jazz Band all participated in this entertainment, which was followed by a most enjoyable dance.

On March 21, in Stone Chapel, the annual concert was given by the entire group. The playing of the Mandolin Club was especially good in this concert, and all the Clubs performed very well.

Next came the Exeter Concert, at Exeter, on April 11, and a fine exhibition both in musical skill and in all-round ability was rendered by the two Clubs. After the concert refreshments were served to both the Clubs at the smoker, which affords the only chance for a social gathering between the members of the two schools.

During the spring it is hoped that a return dance may be held with Rogers Hall in the Borden Gymnasium, and also that the Clubs may journey to Bradford Academy to entertain there.

ORCHESTRA

DRAMATIC CLUB

THE Dramatic Club of this year is perhaps one of the best clubs as a body that the school has seen in several seasons. There are few brilliant lights, or men with outstanding histrionic ability, but the club is a well-rounded and fairly well experienced one.

With the withdrawal from school of Mr. Harold C. Stearns, who has coached the Dramatics for past years, the club seemed to have sustained a real blow. Nothing so fortunate or timely as the securing of Mr. Allan V. Heely to succeed Mr. Stearns could be foreseen.

Three plays which are, namely, "The Trysting Place," "Bunk," and "A Night at an Inn," were to have been presented at the end of the winter term; but due to several unfortunate illnesses among the players, they were postponed at the last moment. The date set for their production is May 16.

"The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington, is a light comedy sketch based on an eighteen-year-old youth's passion for a sophisticated young widow. Robert MacLaury and Allan Hirsh execute these two characterizations in true Tarkington tone. The other feminine characters are done by Thomas C. Chapin and John Merwin. These four are supported by Edward W. Ames, J. T. Hague, and F. H. Pierson, Jr.

The second of the plays and the outstanding one is Dunsany's well-known tragedy, "A Night at an Inn." It deals with the theft of a fabulously priced jewel from the eye of an idol in India; and the uncanny and horrible judgment that falls upon the thieves on their return to England. "A. E. Scott Fortescue (The Toff), a dilapidated gentleman" and the leader of the thieves, is portrayed by H. C. Downing. The parts of the three merchant sailors are carried by R. T. Rylee, Robert Ward, and T. C. Kennedy. Supporting these men are C. Eddy, F. B. Stratton, E. V. Silver, Jr., and R. L. Rideout.

The last of the plays is an amusing and riotous farce. The parts of the dashing young hero and the sneering, leering villain are carried by J. H. Pierce, President of the Club, and H. C. Sandberg, President of next year's players. These two are ably supported by E. C. Carter, Jr., J. H. Stevens, C. M. Fisher, J. L. Wolcott, and H. Lyne.

Philo

THIS year Philo, which is the oldest organization in Phillips Academy, celebrated its one-hundredth anniversary. The society holds as its purpose the promotion of interest in debating among the student body, and to the group of men to whom such work appeals, it has given much experience in that valuable educational work.

During the winter term a series of debates and discussions was held. The usual procedure was a debate, followed by a discussion of the question in which both the speakers and the audience participated. The work done was without the assistance of coaches, the debates being purely the efforts of the speakers themselves. Both the chairman and the judges of the debates were members of the society. Early in the season it was planned to have debating with other schools, but due to certain obstacles this was not accomplished.

SOCIETY OF INQUIRY

THE Society of Inquiry was founded in 1833 and has had for its outstanding purpose for nearly a century now, the desire to create and maintain a strong moral sentiment in the school. It has tried to present to the student an incentive to live in accordance with Christian ideals and standards. In view of these purposes, the Society adopted a variety of ways to introduce to the student body the different aspects of a truly Christian life. Its program included many interesting and instructive meetings, some open discussions, and other talks by influential speakers, all of which proved very gratifying by the interest shown throughout the year.

On September 24 the customary reception to the new men in school was held in the gymnasium by the Society at which time several prominent members of the school outlined the activities and plans of the various branches of school life. Soon after this, a drive for funds to carry on the activities of the Society met with a very hearty response and the necessary quota was oversubscribed. This money is used in aiding a number of school charities, besides paying the expenses of speakers, receptions, and a portion of the Saturday night moving pictures.

The meetings of the Society during the fall term were very largely turned over to open discussions on subjects of vital consequence to a Christian. Much interest was attached to these informal gatherings which is a very encouraging fact. In the latter part of the term, the Society, in accordance with an old custom, exchanged delegations with Exeter. Delegations from Yale, Harvard, Williams, and Dartmouth were the chief features of the winter term. These speakers presented in a number of cases the Christian viewpoint of a college man; while others outlined the activities of the Christian organizations of their respective colleges. Dr. Stearns gave an interesting talk at one of the meetings, choosing for his subject, "Men Who Have Won." For the spring term the Society has chosen for its program several informal talks by recognized Christian leaders in the East. By these different means

PHILLIPIAN BOARD

THE Phillipian, under the leadership of John J. Chickering, Jr., has added another year of successful endeavor to publish a bi-weekly newspaper in Phillips Academy that will favorably compare with similar college publications. To Burton J. Lee, Jr., the Business Manager, was entrusted the management of the finances; and, although handicapped by lack of previous experience, he filled his important position in excellent manner. During 1925 the Phillipian has increased in circulation and in influence among the student body.

Much praise is due the individual members of the board for their excellent spirit of coöperation with the Directors in publishing a paper that lives up to the standard of former years.

In behalf of the school we congratulate the board, and extend best wishes for the future to their successors.

VAGABOND BOARD

THE year 1925 marks the advent of the Vagabond to fill the gap left in school life and activities by the lamentable demise of the Mirror. Meeting with difficulties in the business department, publication had to be suspended for 1924-25. It was here that the Vagabond took up the work.

The Vagabond was organized by a group of Seniors who felt keenly the lack of a medium for literary and comic expression furnished by the Mirror and resolved to repair the loss to the best of their abilities. To insure its existence for the first year a sum covering all running expenses was personally guaranteed by these men, and they undertook the task of providing a magazine which would not only interest and entertain the students, but also provide the necessary outlet for expression.

R. L. Askren was chosen Editor-in-Chief, and E. W. Ames and J. B. Page, managed the Editorial department, while R. B. Bryant, B. C. Smith, and D. Oppenheimer handled the business affairs. L. H. Ehrlich was elected to the Editor-in-Chiefship for the next year.

The path the Vagabond treads in attempting to attain the high standard so long maintained by the Mirror is not smooth, and how well the Mirror traditions are supported, and the affections deserved, can be decided only by the judgment of time.

POT POURRI BOARD

ALL the activities of the school year in publications, musical clubs, athletics, and all other extra-curriculum work, are included in the Pot Pourri, whose object it is to keep a record of the school, and especially of the Senior Class, for the current year. The 1925 book was edited by Douglas H. Foxall, with John B. Page as Business Manager. C. A. Barnes was the Art Editor. Although but few changes have been made in this year's edition, the board is in hopes that it will be a success, and will maintain the high standard set by its predecessors.

BLUE BOOK BOARD

THE third edition of the Academy Blue Book was a big success, having the largest volume ever published. It was in the capable hands of W. T. Barbour, Jr., Editor-in-Chief, who was successfully aided by R. B. Bryant, Business Manager.

This book is presented to the entire student body at the opening of the fall term, and it contains the rules of the school, gives various customs and organizations, and relates many events concerning the history of the institution.

This year's board has for its Editor-in-Chief, James L. Harrison, '25; while the business side is managed by Walter M. Swoope, '27. It is most sincerely hoped that this year's board may have as prosperous a year as did the last one.

OPEN DOOR BOARD

FIVE men chosen by the Senior Council make up the Open Door Committee. Both the Advisory Board and the Open Door felt that the work of the two organizations should be separated. The police were unable to meet teams and do the necessary supervision at athletic contests. The committee was enlarged by adding three new members. They correspond with all visiting athletic teams and provide for their reception and entertainment while in Andover.

Much praise is due Charles Stewart and John Pierce who have served for the entire year. Nyce, Bryant, and Downing were appointed at the end of the winter term and have most faithfully carried on the work of the Open Door during the spring term. The police force rendered most valuable assistance to the committee during the fall and winter terms before the reorganization of the Open Door.

So great was the toll of graduation that only five letter men reported for practice in September. In the absence of Captain-elect Randall, that honor fell to W. T. Healey. The other "A" men who returned were Sandberg, Billhardt, Prior, and Foster. The supply of new men was plentiful, however; and under the able direction of the coaches, Daly and Shepard, a team was produced that made up in spirit what it lacked in weight.

The season opened on September 27 with the Dean game. The opponents were heavy and formidable; but Andover displayed surprising strength and emerged victor by a score of 23 to 0. The following Saturday Cushing Academy was held while Billhardt scored for Andover after a long march down the field.

The game with Harvard 1928 marked the christening of the new football field, and was celebrated in appropriate style with a 13 to 0 victory for Andover.

On October 18 Andover met her first defeat of the year, the Yale Freshmen winning 16 to 7 a thrilling contest filled with breaks. A feature was the manner in which the Andover eleven, trailing 14 to 0, played at the opening of the second half. Frigard dashed 70 yards and scored a moment later. A fumble by Andover on the Yale 2-yard line only prevented a second touchdown.

A week later the Brown Freshmen won from the Blue 10 to 7, a field goal by Randall, now of Brown, deciding the issue against his former team-mates.

On November 1, the Andover squad went to Lawrenceville, and returned with a 13 to 0 victory, quite contrary to predictions. This was the culmination of the hard playing of the team in general, and the exceptional run of Burns on the opening kick-off.

Exeter alone now remained. Exeter with a heavy team of experienced veterans, and Andover with a well conditioned, light team of fighters. Exeter was favored to win, and win she did, 10 to 0; but only after one of the hardest struggles in history. From an Andover standpoint there were two outstanding features of the game: a defense inside the five-yard line which Exeter could not pierce in eight successive downs in the first quarter, and a fifty-yard run by Borah in the final minutes.

Baseball

Andover began the very successful 1924 baseball season with the following letter men: Captain Mumby, Kern, Shoop, Jones, Smith, Parisien, McClellan, Randall and Foote. With these men of known ability to start with, Coach Daly assembled a team which provided a most satisfactory conclusion to an enviable campaign by defeating Exeter 9-0 in the annual classic.

Andover started promisingly by defeating the strong Medford High School team by a score of 9-1. This game, played on April twelfth, gave promise of the brilliant baseball to come. In the second contest, that with Fitchburg Normal, Shoop practically won his own game by striking out seventeen of his opponents and allowing only four hits.

The team followed this up by defeating Wentworth and Bridgewater Normal by the scores of 7-3 and 12-3 respectively, and next St. Anselm's College went home with a 4-0 defeat after Shoop struck out fifteen men and allowed one hit.

On May 3, the Andover team went to New Haven and won its only game away from home by the score of 4-3. This game with the powerful Yale Seconds went to ten innings, and gave the Blue players the keenest competition they had yet encountered.

Andover, using a recruit pitcher, met her first defeat on May 7, at the hands of Dean Academy, by a margin of 4-2. The Yale Freshman game, scheduled for May 10, was called off on account of rain.

The brief rest seemed to help the Blue aggregation, for from the next game, that with the Harvard Juniors, they emerged 7-2 victors. Shoop pitched his usual good ball, striking out twelve men and allowing seven scattered hits. The following Saturday, the Coburn Classical Institute was easily overcome 9-1.

On May 24, Shoop pitched a no-hit game against Cushing which resulted in a 14-9 victory for Andover. He struck out twelve men and thus completed his third shut-out to date.

Andover lost her second game by the margin of 2-1 to the Harvard Freshmen on Saturday, May 24. The last two preliminary games were with Burdett College and the Dartmouth Freshmen. Andover was victorious in both. The scores were 10-0 and 12-5 respectively.

Saturday, June 7, was the date of the Exeter game which resulted in a glorious 9-0 victory for Andover. It was an ideal day for the great contest, and Shoop, ably assisted by his team-mates brought to an end his enviable scholastic baseball career by pitching well-nigh perfect baseball.

THE 1925 TRACK SQUAD

THE 1925 BASEBALL SQUAD

Track

With nine letter men returning in the fall from the championship 1923 team, Coaches Ray Shepard and Larry Shields were furnished with excellent prospects for another successful year in track. Such an optimistic view was well-founded, for the team which these two men turned out established for itself a record, unique in the history of the sport at Andover. Not only did every preliminary meet, important and unimportant, throughout the winter and spring schedules prove a victory, but the season was terminated with the defeat of Exeter, 71 to 55. Furthermore, during the spring three school records of years' standing fell before their efforts. Healey hurled the javelin a distance of 192 feet, Borah lowered the previous mark in the 100-yard dash to 9 4-5 seconds, and Larsen raised the high jump record to 5 ft. 10½ in. It should also be added that Healey secured a place on the United States Olympic Team, and although unable to go to Paris, his achievement is notable for an Andover athlete.

The winter season on the boards opened with a victory over Exeter in the annual relay race in Boston. The M. I. T. Freshmen were next defeated, and a week later Andover was successful in the Boston Athletic Association Interscholastics. The two remaining engagements resulted in victories over Huntington and the strong Dartmouth Freshmen.

The first meet on the spring schedule was with the Harvard Freshmen. The Andover men scored a total of 80 points against 45 for their opponents. The next week the M. I. T. Freshmen were again defeated more disastrously than Harvard. Andover entered the Harvard Interscholasties a favorite, and led all other opponents for the fourth consecutive year. Against Worcester Academy the team scored 94 1-3 points, and in the final preliminary meet the Dartmouth Freshmen were left with the smaller score.

With such a record Andover was favored to win the long-awaited Exeter meet, and lived up to expectations, defeating not only our greatest rivals, but also the jinx which is said to follow the favored team. The final score of the meet was 71 to 55.

Those men who scored against Exeter, and thus won their "A" were: Captain Bradley, Healey, Borah, Larsen, Stone, Glendinning, Keep, Rindlaub, Holmes, Chute, Edwards, Renouf, Alexander, Harvey, Paxton, Wood, Sheldon, Quarrier, and Manager Layton.

Hockey

The Hockey Team was the victim of unfortunate circumstance, three of ten preliminary games scheduled were not played because of the poor condition of the ice; but the great disappointment of the season was the cancellation of the Exeter game after several postponements, as the result of an unusually long February thaw.

Three letter men, Captain Rideout, Rogers, and Curtis, and a large supply of good material reported for practice. The coaching was in charge of Mr. Paradise, but Mr. Sayles, formerly of Andover and Princeton and member of the Boston Hockey Club, ably assisted in rounding the team into its final form. In spite of the adverse conditions and new coach, very good results were produced. Of seven games played, four were victories. The team strengthened as the season advanced until hopes of defeating Exeter were high.

The first game was played on January 10, against the Andover Town Team. This game was not scheduled, and was little more than practice for both teams. The Academy sextet succeeded in scoring two goals, while their older opponents were unable to cage the puck. Stone School was next met and decisively beaten by a score of 7 to 0, Andover excelling throughout.

The Harvard Seconds administered the first defeat, 5 to 3. Both teams were handicapped by soft ice. Arlington High was overcome a week later, but on January 24 Browne and Nichols were able to defeat Andover, 2 to 0.

What may be considered as the outstanding game of the year was played with Melrose High School. Ten minutes of overtime play failed to determine the winner, necessitating a "sudden-death" period in which Andover was the first to score, thereby winning the contest.

Andover faced the Harvard Freshmen in Boston Arena, and was defeated in what proved to be the last game of the season. It was found impossible to hold the Exeter game in Boston; so when cold weather failed to return, the annual game was definitely cancelled, much to the disappointment of both schools.

The outstanding players of the year were Captain Rideout, Rogers, and Curtis. The men to whom letters were awarded were Captain Rideout, Manager Bryant, Curtis, Rogers, Collens, Pratt, Tweedy, Frost, and Kimball. For next year, Rideout was reelected captain, and Thompson will be manager.

Swimming

With five veterans as a nucleus, beside several members of last year's squad and an abundance of new material, the prospects for a successful swimming season looked exceptionally bright when the candidates for the 1925 team were called out early in December. These hopes certainly were realized, for under the able coaching of Mr. Dake this year's team proved to be one of the strongest that has represented the blue for several seasons.

Of the seven meets in which it competed, Andover was victorious in five. Among the teams which were downed were the M. I. T. Freshmen 48-14, Huntington School 40-22, Brookline Swimming Club 33-29, and Brown Freshmen 46-16. Andover suffered her only defeat of the preliminary schedule when she lost to the strong Yale Freshmen team 42-20. A 36-26 victory over Worcester Academy was especially commendable in that this was the first time Andover has defeated the Red and Black swimming team since 1915.

Four academy records were broken by the blue mermen during the season. Captain Bryant accounted for two of these when he set up new marks of 24 3-5 and 57 1-5 seconds respectively in the 50 and the 100-yard dashes. Nyce lowered his previous time in the 100-yard breast stroke to 1 minute 13 2-5 seconds, thus making a new record. A four-man relay team composed of Nyce, Swoope, Foxall, and Captain Bryant covered the 200-yard distance in the record time of 1 minute 44 3-5 seconds.

With this exceptional preliminary schedule behind it, the team met Exeter in the Borden pool on March 14. The contest started off favorably for Andover when she secured a large lead by winning the relay; but unfortunately Exeter, by capturing a majority of the second and third places, gradually caught up, and after a thrilling battle, nosed out the blue, 33-29.

The conclusion of the 1925 season came on March 21 when Captain Bryant and Nyce were sent to New York to represent Andover in the national interscholastic championship meet. Bryant succeeded in winning both the 50 and 100-yard dashes, while Nyce captured first place in the breast stroke. This gave Andover a total of fifteen points, and the meet.

Soccer

When the call for Soccer Team candidates came last fall, a large squad, including six letter men, responded. The material was very light and fast, and it did not take Coach Ryley and Captain English long to build a noteworthy eleven. The 1924 team was scored on only once; lost no games; and defeated Worcester by a 4-0 score.

On October 18, the first game of the season was played in Andover with the Harvard Freshman team.

In this game Andover tried out almost the entire squad, and won by the score of 4-0. In the next game the team was scored on for the first and only time, but defeated the Boston Chinese Team, 4-1. In the third contest of the year on November 1, the eleven journeyed to Tabor Academy, at Marion, and won after a closely contested game with the cadet team, 3-0.

In the final game, although outweighed by Worcester, the team showed the benefits of the fine coaching of Mr. Ryley and their speed by defeating Worcester 4-0.

Prominent for their good work all through the season were Captain English, Snow, Chan, Tseng, Cheney, and Ullman.

C. Snow was elected Captain for the succeeding year and S. B. Riley, the manager.

Wrestling

During the 1925 season Andover was represented on the mat by one of the strongest wrestling teams in the history of the school. Starting with a nucleus of three veterans, this team not only went through the entire season without a single defeat, but also it was ranked as one of the leading preparatory school aggregations of the country. Although the Blue contested in only six meets, it scored a total of 102 points, as compared with 46 for its opponents. Captain Capra, Yamaguchi, and Wylie were the high scorers, having to their credit 28, 26, and 22 points respectively.

The season started with two victories over the M. I.T. Freshmen. On January 31 the yearlings came to Andover and were defeated 14-6. In a return meet the following week the academy was again victorious 21-5. The Harvard Freshmen were turned back 16-8. Andover faced the hardest test of its schedule on February 25, when it met the strong Yale Freshman team at New Haven. The contest was exceedingly close, but finally resulted in a 13-11 verdict for the Blue. In its final preliminary meet Andover easily defeated the Tufts Freshmen 20-8.

On March 14 the team traveled to Worcester and brought its season to a very successful close by an easy 18-8 victory over Worcester Academy. Andover won three falls and one decision, while her opponents secured only one decision and a default. Yamaguchi in the 115-lb. class obtained the first score for the Blue when he threw Little of Worcester. Wylie, the Andover 125-lb. representative, faced stiff opposition from Fiske, but succeeded in winning a decision. In the 135-lb., Putnam opposed Captain Breed of Worcester, and it was only after a hard battle that a decision was awarded to the latter. Captain Capra and Reiter, both of Andover, won easy falls in their respective classes; while Bushnell was forced to default because of an injury received during his bout.

Too much credit cannot be given either to Coach Carlson for his tireless efforts in developing the team or to each individual wrestler for persistent and hard work. Those who received their letters were: Captain Capra, Yamaguchi, Wylie, Putnam, Reiter, Bushnell, and Manager Hyde. Capra was re-elected captain for next year.

Basketball

The beginning of the basketball season found Coach Daly with two letter men from last year, Captain Billhardt and Brockelman, around which to build his team. The first preliminary game did not augur a very successful season to the followers of Andover. Wentworth Institute was the opponent, and departed with a 46-32 victory. However, on the following Saturday the team showed a decided improvement, and defeated the Boston University Freshmen by a score of 31 to 26. More shifts were made in the line-up, and with this game Andover seemed to hit a stride that carried her to seven successive victories, including wins over the Freshman teams of Harvard and Princeton.

The game with Harvard '28 was the most exciting played on the Andover floor during the year. The visitors were far in the lead, 29-15, soon after the beginning of the second half; but the Blue fought with their backs to the wall, as it were, until the score was tied at 32-32. When the final whistle blew a moment later Andover had added three points margin. The Brown Freshmen were victorious 31-24; and from that time on a slump occurred. On March 7 the Andover team invaded New Haven to meet Yale '28, but were repulsed 35-22.

The following week Andover went to Exeter to encounter their rivals in the last game of the season. The two teams seemed to be on practically even terms, and a good game was assured. The predictions were correct as the contest was fast and hard-fought throughout, as Exeter games always are. At the end of the first half the score favored Exeter 12-8; but the Andover men soon overcame the lead. Fortune hovered back and forth during this second half, finally favoring our adversaries by 28 to 23 when the whistle ended hostilities.

In spite of these late season reverses the team played through a successful schedule, winning seven of eleven games played. The following men participated in the Exeter game, and with Manager J. L. Drummond, received the basketball letter: Captain Billhardt, Brockelman, Eeles, Burns, Morgan, Tyler, and Southgate.

Tennis

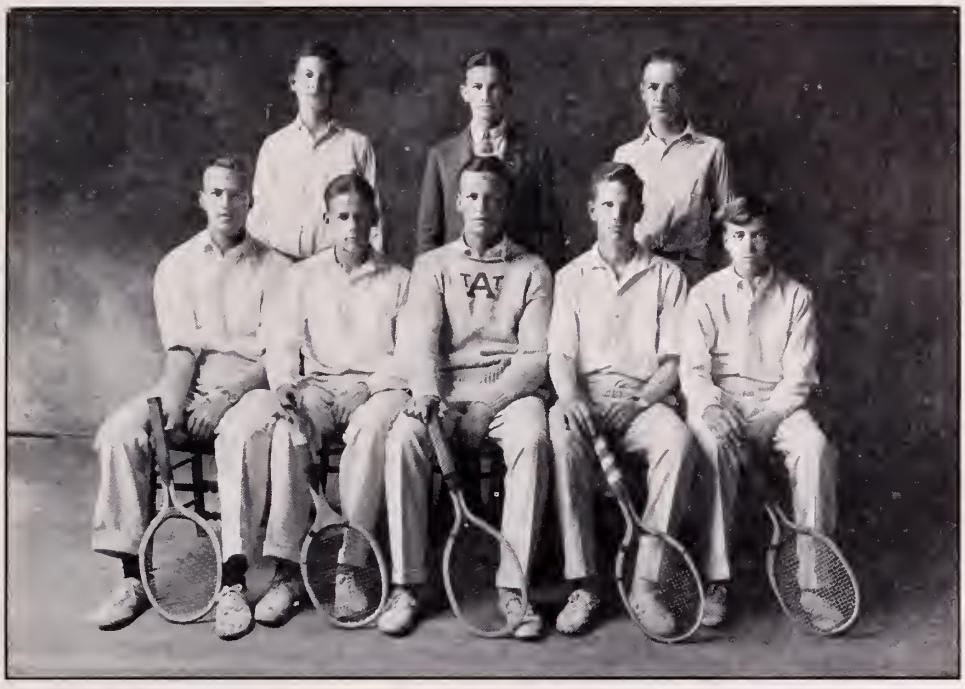

The 1923-24 tennis season was started very successfully by the fall tournament. Immediately after school opened in September the call for candidates for the club teams was issued, and an exceptionally large squad reported for tryouts. As the season progressed the prospects for a strong team in the spring looked very favorable, for a great deal of excellent new material was discovered among the members of the club squads. Beside this additional strength Coach Kelley, had four veterans, Captain Evans, Pope, T. Ward, and G. W. Riley, upon whom as a foundation, he was able to develop the varsity team.

Although somewhat handicapped by ineligibility and poor weather conditions, the 1924 aggregation was victorious in three out of eight matches. Andover's first opponent of the season was Newton High School. The contest was very close from beginning to end, but the visitors finally succeeded in winning 5-4. To retaliate for this defeat the Blue swamped the University of Pennsylvania Freshmen 7-2. The Harvard and Dartmouth Freshmen both proved themselves too strong for Andover, however, and won from the academy by the scores of 7-2 and 4-2 respectively. The next two encounters turned out more successfully for the Blue. Saint Paul's school was turned back 5-4, while the M. I. T. Freshmen were defeated 7-1. On May 30 and 31 the Harvard Interscholastics were held at Cambridge. Andover secured fourteen points, thus tying for third place with Newton High School. Captain Evans by exceptional playing throughout the tournament won his way into the finals, where he lost to Whitbeck of Loomis only after a hard five-set match. In the final preliminary meet of the season the Blue was defeated by the North Andover Country Club.

On June 5 the team went to Exeter for the annual contest with the Red and Gray. The Andover representatives gave their opponents stiff opposition and succeeded in winning two of the singles and two of the doubles matches. They were finally forced to admit defeat, however, by the close score of 5-4.

Captain Evans played exceptionally well throughout the season and won practically all of his matches. Those who received their letters were: Captain Evans, Luce, Pope, Ward, Goodwin, Tolman, Dickson, and Manager Potter.

"DEAR ONE":

"I Can't Realize" that "I Gave You Up Just Before You Threw me Down." But now I'm "Alabamy Bound" to see "My Best Girl." Just wait till you see that "Little Somebody of Mine." She's a "Red Hot Mamma" and I don't mean "Maybe." I think "It's the Blues," but "It's All the Same to Me," so just "Go Your Way and I'll Go Mine." I'm a little curious, so tell me, "Will You Remember Me?" "Some of these Days" "When My Sugar Walks down the Street," you'll remember that "One Kiss," and whisper "Do It Again," and you can "Follow the Swallow," because you'll never be my "Flapper Wife." I'm off "Those Panama Mammas" for life, "Rose Marie," so go be some fish's "Butterfly." "Say It While Dancing," or "Say It with Music," I'll never listen. When you order "Tea for Two," just "Cut Yourself a Piece of Cake," because this is "Goodbye Forever." All I ask is "Can You Bring Back the Heart I Gave You?" I've got that "Old Fashioned Love," so "Dreary Weather" means nothing to me. "Anyway the Wind Blows," "Trouble's a Bubble." I used to say "Out of a Million You're the Only One," but now I know "Somebody Like You" could "Never Again" be the "Only, Only One" for me. "Somebody Loves Me," so "At the End of the Road" I wait for you. "After All I Adore You."

Every girl has her ideal.
I wonder, whose am I?
I hope she's kinda pretty
And, well you know, not shy.
For nobody likes an iceberg
Nor yet a heart of stone.
And I'm no different I guess.
I'd like her all alone.
And if I am nobody's,
Do you think I'll sit and cry?
You're right, I will,
Because, you know, I'm the one that's shy.

A PERSONAL INTERVIEW WITH A REGISTRAR

I have been invited around a lot since I came to Andover. I received a written invitation to visit the Registrar after my nine o'clock class this morning. The bell buzzed, and I rushed over. I, quietly, hat in hand, entered his boudoir. A long desk-like effect confronted me. In back were many effects essential to his interesting life's work. At my right were old hats and articles. In one corner stood a desk at which many hours are reputed to have been whiled away, in petition writing.

There he was, clad in an alluring vermillion negligee, flounced in cerise papier-mache. His face lighted up at seeing me, like a street-light at dusk. The famous, quizzical smile played havoc with his features. He tripped over to the desk, all exuberant with glee.

"Yes," he said, "you have nine cuts."

We talked. I talked. He told me what was to be done. After the six weeks, I came back all refreshed and anticipating many other gay moments with him.

He: "Do you love me?"
She: "Do you think I'm dumb?"
He: "I never did before."

We wonder if the fellow was only kidding who said Harvard was just a prep school for the Old Ladies' Home.

As a song title for some of our Ranting Romeos we would like to suggest, "She loves me when I'm with her, at least she says she does."

Books as we read them:

"Paradise Lost," a charming mystery story wherein the disappearance of a member of our faculty is involved.

"The School For Sandal," the minutes of Faculty meeting divulged for the first time.

"Golf Without Tears," where we are acquainted with the philosophy of Dr. Fuess.

"Omar, The Tent Maker," how "Zeus" kept that schoolgirl complexion.

Hank: "What did you do all vacation, Ken?"
Ken: "Oh, I just rode around Pittsburgh with the top down, getting a dirty neek."

When winter comes to Main Street,
Two chums of Abbot House
Appear with low shoes on their feet,
With chests protected by a blouse.

No wonder they are hardy,
Strong and handsome too,
For if you braved the wintry blasts,
You'd get pneumonia, you poor boob!

We are just preparatory schoolboys. We have to work. Sometimes we do. We know all our professors. We do not brag about it. We are supposed to be in at 8 o'clock. A few of us are. That is when we are broke. Some of us get caught. Then we meet Dr. Stearns. He talks. The faculty votes. We go home. Then we go to Exeter. If we can't do anything else, we go to Worcester. Then we go to h--l. Some of us get there quickly. Others follow more slowly. We all are going there. We are just naughty schoolboys.

MARMADUKE AT MULBERRY MANOR

As our hero, Marmaduke Monahan, called Marma or Duke for short, alighted at the historic Mulberry Manor, he encountered a yowling mob, cheering him with a handful of ekes and a huzzah. He was at ease like many another famous man; for was he not the last year's all-junior-school left-stitch, and had he not shifted to the position of drop-stitch, left vacant by injury to his boy friend, Sidney Horsehair, thus allowing Joe Plotz, the silent partner of the trifling Minuvirate to get into the Knitting Tournament for the benefit of injured and maimed revenue officers, which was won with ease by his former mailing address, St. Bernard's, that famous institute, so well-known for turning out doggy young men from mere pups. Smiling with condescension, he dove into his pocket from which he soon emerged with his knitting outfit, complete to wristlets, and ran through two balls of yarn to prove he had not lost his skill.

The principal stepped forward. He was accustomed to great men, was professor Samuel Sealskin. His daughter, Satinvere, stood behind him. She was wonderful, as Duke soon saw. He immediately decided to know her more closely.

After the first few effusive formalities and rituals, Marma found himself the center of all attention. The great match with St. Abe's was at hand, nearly underfoot. Satinvere, too, was being an old Josephine Watchful, for she was intensely jealous of Phyllis Glassup, daughter of Dr. Phillmy Glassup, Professor of Mathematics.

At last the zero hour arrived. The two teams were seated in uniform at the immense table in the middle of the auditorium. The whistle shrilled. Soon the monotonous hum and buzz of small talk was drowned out by the furious, though regular, click of needles. The first period passed, uneventful. The second opened with a whir of flying yarn. Marma was knitting easily and confidently. The right-stitch, Lou Kullus, was holding up his end of the yarn magnificently. The audience had settled down, absorbed in the heartrending struggle before them. Then, like a flash, just as Duke was executing a double purl-drop-and-loopstitch, his left needle, heated by the constant friction, caught fire. Quick as a Cauliflower, Marma tore it from his last row. The coach threw him an asbestos one, and he was soon bent to the task of retrieving his lost lead. At that moment, the referee announced fifteen minutes left to go. Duke spun his hands like mischief. Row after row he knit. He was knitting like a nit-nit now. "Time!" bellowed the referee. Suspense — silence — someone dropped a pin, and the judges came back.

"Mulberry Manor wins by five straight rows and a single row of double purling," was the momentous announcement.

"Mr. Marmaduke Monahan," quoted the spokesman, "was the personal winner to whom are awarded the platinum needles, the annual individual prize."

Cheers! Yells! Just good old enthusiasm! Marma stepped forward and took the proffered beauties. Satinvere stepped to his side and whispered in his ear. He blushed, flushed, the crowd was hushed, and everyone heard her say, "Marmaduke, oh Marmaduke, it's you who saved the day."

Then straight he answered her and clear,
"You lie," he cried, "it's you, my dear.
You taught me how to double purl,
The loop, the drop, the triple whirl."

Her eyes dropped to the floor. Marmaduke stepped toward her, and tripped over them. They stood, clasped closely, unmindful of the huge crowd which was lustily cheering.

Marma soon was taken into the best fraternity, Knitta Balla Wool. He had lovely times, even Satinvere.

Here ends the yarn.

The Board would like to know:

Why the Senior Council was so anxious to get Rich?

What Bushnell looks like now that he has been graduated from the billiard-ball class by growing a mustache?

Which is dumber, Erskine or Erskine?

What some of the boys have to be conceited about?

Who told the board that this was funny?

We disapprove of:

Girls that neck;
Girls that do not, and want to;
Girls that do, and don't want to;
Girls that don't.

We love Girls.

"Bee": "Have you heard about the engagement of Princess Mary Anne Gee-whatgoodmouzing to Clarence?"

Thompson: "Yeh, can you imagine having a name like that changed to Brown?"

Dear Ma: —

Well, I got here all right, or as the boys here say, O. K. I got a peachy room and buddy. The fellows poked fun at my suspenders but I come right back at them and said my pants and me was good friends, but "divided we fall." That held them. They asked me why I didn't shake the hay-seeds off me, but that's where they got took in. There wasn't any on me. I let them know Tewelks Crossing wasn't as far out country as some of the backyards they lived in. They was only funning me, so we parted friends. They better not tease me too much. You always told me I didn't know my own strength. I told them so and they said yes.

Well, I close, as some of these percies would say, to cast fluffy head on downy pillow.

More on tomorrow,

ODE TO A PROF KEEPING YOU FROM A DIPLOMA

No Wonder people like him,
For he is just a peach.
But wouldn't he be safer
If he were out of reach?

So many come to see him
And they have just lots of fun,
They talk and talk and argue too,
And then he tells them one.

O yes, he is a dandy.
I'd like to know him well,
But then I'd rather see him,
Sizzling right in. . . .a stiff collar on a hot day.
